Information Sessions

The Orange Door is part of the Victorian Government's response to the Royal Commission into Family Violence, to strengthen support for children and families and involves a partnership of care agencies

The services offered by The Orange Door are:

- ☑ Women, children and young people's family violence services
- ☑ Child and family services
- ☑ Aboriginal services
- ☑ Men's family violence services

Early next year we will be opening in the Central Highlands area, so we're currently looking for specialist practitioners who want to be part of this meaningful work.

If you're a specialist practitioner in child wellbeing, family violence, Aboriginal services or men's family violence, we invite you to join us for an information session to learn more about these opportunities.

Wednesday, October 09, 2019 | 3pm and 7pm
the Ballarat & District Aboriginal Co-Operative office
5 Market Street, Ballarat.

At the information session you'll have the opportunity to hear from all of the agency partners who are part of The Orange Door, as well as hear from some current practitioners and ask questions.

The Orange Door is a free service for adults, children and young people who are experiencing, or have experienced, family violence and for families who need extra support with the care of children.

The aim is to strengthen support for children and families and involves a partnership between Berry Street, Child & Family Services Ballarat and the Ballarat & District Aboriginal Co-Operative.
