

Work that matters

Disability support is a career full of choice and possibility. You could work for a service provider, for yourself, or work for a person with disability – there are lots of options.

Could this be the career for you?

Right now, there are a range of jobs for people who want to work supporting people with disability.

Discover the possibilities at vic.gov.au/workthatmatters

Authorised by the Victorian Government, 1 Treasury Place, Melbourne

