Victorian Employer Satisfaction and Skills Survey 2017

Gippsland

Over 12,100 employers responded to the training and skills component of the Victorian Employer Satisfaction and Skills Survey in 2017. Of these, 766 were from the Gippsland region. Employers report that skills are important to productivity, but many are facing challenges filling jobs and finding the right applicants with the right skills. These challenges are faced both now, and are expected to continue into the future. However, a high proportion of employers that access training to improve the skills of their workforce report a positive impact on productivity and return on investment.

The statistics below reflect the experience of employers from the Gippsland region compared to the overall Victorian average.

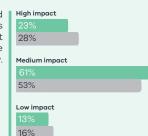

Skills are important to productivity

Impact of insufficient workforce skills

A lack of skills can increase the workload for other staff, affect quality of service/products and result in an inability to meet customer needs.

Managing the skills of the workforce

Employers reported that recruitment was challenging due to candidates not having the required skills or being job ready.

Finding people with the right skills

Finding job ready

candidates

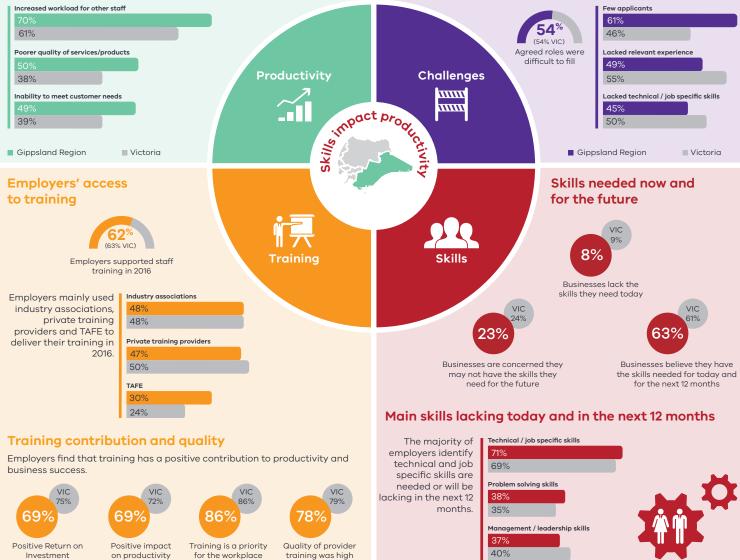

More than a quarter of employers saw the need to improve the skills of existing staff.

Training staff to keep skills up to date

Recruitment challenges

Employers faced recruitment challenges primarily due to a lack of potential candidates and relevant experience.

Gippsland Region

Victoria

training was high

40% Gippsland Region

Victoria

TORIA State Government

Education and Training