Victorian Employer Skills Survey 2021 Agriculture, Forestry and Fishing

The Victorian Skills Authority (VSA) asked businesses about their skills, recruitment and training needs for the Victorian Employer Skills Survey 2021.

Findings from the survey will help the Victorian government identify areas of skills demand, drive innovation across the VET sector and better plan for Victoria's future training needs.

The VSA conducted the survey between August and December 2021. It approached 70,000 businesses and achieved a response rate of 20.5%, with coverage across all industries, business sizes and regions in the state.

D The statistics below reflect the experience of employers across the five key survey domains: Business climate | Skills | Recruitment | Training | Apprentices, trainees and work placements

climate

Despite the global pandemic, many employers adapted to maintain or grow their workforce. Employers had a mostly positive outlook for the year ahead.

Workforce

Fewer employers reported growing their workforce over the past 12 months (compared to the state average).

Outlook

Employers in the industry were more cautious about their business outlook. More were expecting their workforce to contract or remain the same size.

Impacts of COVID-19

Skills-related challenges

40%

COVID-19 skills-related challenges experienced by employers in the industry were lower than the state average.

Remained the same

57% Vic avg Adopted new ways of working related to COVID-19 27% 45% Vic avg. Staff retention challenges 19% 26% Vic avg.

Finding candidates with the right skills presented the most common skill challenge in the past year. More employers are expecting skills shortages in 2022 than in 2021.

Skills shortages

Almost one-quarter of employers in the industry expect to face skills shortages in 2022. This was higher than the state average.

Skills challenges

The top skills challenges reported by employers were the same across all industries. They were:

Skills needs

More employers in the industry reported needing workers with the right mindset and with job-specific skills compared to the state average.

Education and Training

Most employers in the industry had undertaken some recruitment activity over the past year and the majority reported experiencing challenges.

Recruitment need

Fewer employers in the industry undertook some form of recruitment over the past 12 months, compared to the state average.

Recruitment challenges

Four in five employers reported having difficulties recruiting for particular roles. This was higher than the state average.

Type of challenge

The most common challenges faced by employers were related to the number, experience and jobspecific skills of candidates.

Close to half of employers in the industry engaged in some form of staff training.

Engagement in training

17% Vic avg

More employers in the industry used external training, fewer used internal training and 37% used both (same as state average).

Satisfaction with training

Levels of satisfaction with training were high, with scores similar to the state average.

Skillsets

Just over three in five employers said they would consider a skillset (micro credential or part gualification) rather than a full qualification to upskill their staff.

62%

61% Vic avg.

trainees and work placements

Employers continue to make use of apprentices, trainees and work placements to assist them in filling the skills pipeline.

Apprentices and trainees

Uptake of apprentices in the industry over the past 12 months was lower than the state average.

Challenges

Employers cited lack of suitable applicants as their most common barrier. More employers in the industry reported they did not need more apprentices or trainees.

trainee(s) 19%

13% Vic avg

Work placement students

Fewer employers in the industry took on work placement students (15% compared to 21% for Victoria). The most common type of work placement students were:

Indicates state wide average for Victoria

